THE BRIEFLESS BARRISTER.

- An Attorney was taking a turn, In shabby habiliments drest; His coat it was shockingly worn, And the rust had invested his yest.
- His breeches had suffered a breach, His linen and worsted were worse; He had scarce a whole crown in his lat. And not half nerown in his purse.
- And thus as he wandered along. A cheerless and comfortless elf. He sought for relief in a song. Or complainingly talked to himself. "Unfortunate man that I am? Fre never a ellent but grief; The case is, I've no case at all. And in brief, I, pe'er had a brief!
- ⁴ I've waited and waited in vain, Expecting an 'opening' to find, Where an honest young lawyer might gain Some reward for the toil of his mind.
- 6 T is not that I'm wanting in law, Or book an intelligent face. That others have cases to plead, While I have to plead for a case.
- O, how can a modest young man Her hope for the smallest progress The profession's already so full. Or lawyers so full of profession.
- While thus he was strolling around. his eye accidentally fell On a very deep hole in the ground, And he sighed to himself, "It is well
- To curb his emotions he sat, On the curb stone the space of a minute Then cried, "Here's an opening at het?" And in less than a giffy was in it!
- Next morning twelve citizens came, ("I" was the coroner bade them attend;) To the end that it might be determined How the man had determined his end.
- "The man was a lawyer, I hear,"
 Quoth the foreman who sat on the corse:
 "A lawyer? alsa!" said another,
 "Uncontrolly died of remorse!"
- A third said, "he knew the decrased, An actorney well versed in the laws, And as to the came of his death— "T was no doubt from the want of a cause."
- The jury decided at length,
 After somemany weighing the matter,
 "That the lawyer was drowned, because
 He could not keep his head above water."

Editorial Correspondence of the Albany Evening Journal Letters from Mr. Weed---No.6.

Pants, Dec. 29, 1851.

More than $,000,000 of votes were cast on the 20th and 21st instant, of which over nine-tentliswere in favor of Louis Najoleon. This average is nearly uniform in and out of Pants.

The President, or First Consul, is now actively engaged in arranging the machinery of Government. He is aided by conparatively new men, most of the Statesmen of the Republic having either retired, or been discarded. To perfect a 57-stem of Government for France is no ordinary task. The power of Louis Napoleon is supreme, so that if he possesses wisdom and integrity he can, for a season, at least, give repose and prosperity to a great Nation. I say for a season, because I am pursuaded that this condition of things cannot be enduring. That repose for which the People are indebted to the array, cannot last long for the army must and will have occupation.

The Prosident keeps his own scerets. The best informed persons here are quite ignorant of his intervities. The Paris, Dec. 29, 1851.

informed persons here are quite ignorant of his intentions. The movement which overthrew the recent Government was a perfect surprise. Min isters and Generals who found themselves in Pri con on the morning of the 3d instant went t con on the morning of the 3d instant went to sleep, wholly unconscious and unsuspecting. All was admirably arranged. The Minister of the Interior, the officer destined to the command of the Army and the Chief of Police were alone in Bonnparty's councils. The entire Police force was on duty, with extra pay, all night. Resistance was apprehended only from the National Guard. To avoid this possibility the Drum Majors of each Brigade were directed to repair with all their Drumteers and Drums to a large Court in the Place Undotoe at eleven o'clock at night. Here they were placed under a sufficient guard and supplied bountifully with refreshments for the night. This and similar precautionary steps were taken so admirly as to escape observation.

"The Independent," a journal published at Brussels, as I am informed, contains an account of the movement furnished by distinguished men obnoxious to the President, but as that paper has been suppressed here, I have not seen it, though a gentleman just from Belgium promises me a copy. The account published in the London papers, which I suppose you have seen, was written by De Toequeville.

The resignation of Lord Palmerston is the subject of much speculation and conjecture here. The London Papers are read with avidity, but jurnish little more than their own speculations. The French question, as is generally supposed, had more or less to do with that resignation. Mr. had note or less to do with that resignation. Alt. Webster's demands in regard to the outrage committed upon our Flag at Nieuragua may have emharmased the retired. Minister for Foreign Affairs Louis Napoleon, as did not the British Nation, but his views are not unlikely to be adopted by his successor, for if the other Monarchies find it for thair interest. his successor, for if the other Monarchies find it for their interest to recognize this Government, England will not stand out alone. If, therefore, the British Man-of-War was sent to Nicaraugua with instructions which occasioned that outrage, Loid Palmerston would have found it casier to resign than to discover the least. And if, as we all assume, that act is to be disavowed, may not this account for the resignation of the Minister of Foreign Alfains?

Louis Napoleon has been removing some troublesome residents of Paris. France, as you know, has a common centre to which everything tends and all me attracted. With us many to whom the restraints of law are inconvenient, go to Texas, or Canada, or California; but in France to Texas, or Canada, or California; but in France all persons of enterpiac and genius come to Paris. This, of course, makes a mixture of go.d and bad, in which, however, there is a strong infusion of the latter ingredient. Of persons condemned through a series of years to the Galleys, some 500 who had been either pardoned or had served out their terms, returned to Faris. They were, however, restricted to certain quanters, though not very rigidly watched. These discharged convicts, or some of them, were engaged in barriending the city on the 3d inst., with a view to pillage and spoils. Orders were, therefore, given to the Chief Police to arrest all who had thus broken them ban. Several hundred have been already taken ban. Several hundred have been already taker

Napoleon is about to signalize his triumplant election by a series of public demonstrations. At the Church of Notre Dame to-morrow is to be a magnificent Te Deum in which the Arch Bishop and all the Cities in France, the Officers of State the Judges, the Diplomatic Corps, &c., &c., are to be present. Ten guns are to be freed in the morning, at the Hospital of Invalids, for each million of Affirmative votes. On the 3d of Janusary a Grand Rall is to be given, at the Hotel do Ville, and a Grand Banquet at the same place on the 4th. It is astonishing what a vast emigration has taken place with slight means. If in five years, sustained by the General Government, one-half as much could be done as had been done in Ireland, how great would be the result! Within some four or five years, one and a half millions had emigrated from Ireland, and almost all this had been done by the emigrants themselves. If free whites from Europe come to join free whites in America, what could we do not do in sending free blacks in America to the blacks in Africa!

Mr. Webster said he concurred entirely in the two resolutions. He thought it best for the blacks, best for the whites, best for the North, best for the Soult; he believed it to be right and expedient. Let us do all we can to be harmonious. He would say to the black man, you will be happier by going to the land of your fathers, and you will not leave us the less happy by the act.

Dr. Neal, with that native desire which a Yankee has to know all things, asked his new acquaintance whether he was a "doctor of medicine, or a doctor of divinity." "Both," was the reply. After a brief pause, the double doctor turned to his neighbor. "And, sir, may I be so bould as to ask which you are—a doctor of divinity, or a doctor of physic." "A doctor of divinity, or a doctor of physic." "A doctor of divinity, sir," said Dr. Neale. "Ah, then," said the little priest, "the difference between you and me is this—you preach, but don't practice. Now, I do both." Dr. Neal laughed merrily at the joke, as did also many others who had overheard the witty repartee.—Courier.

Ponn.—On Wednesday of last week, Mr. G. W. Miller of Butler, Winnebago Co., brought into this cirv some 80 hogs.

The heaviest of the 1 t weighed 480 lbs., and the whole number averaged 320 pounds.

They were purchased by Sylvester Marsh Esq. at $4,31½ per hundred.

This is perhaps the finest lot of the porcine genus ever brought into Chicago.—Chicago Journal.

"Coming Along,"—The Southern Michigan Railroad track is laid, we learn, within some twelve miles of this city.

Unless prevented by unfavorable weather, or some other unforseen cause, the road will be completed to town, within four or five weeks.—Chicago Journal.

WORTH A TRIAL. SHELDON'S WACERPROOF LEATHER POLISH! Do you know that of all the articles manufactured in this city.

SHELDON'S OIL WATER PROOF POLISH is attracting the most universal admiration where it is been tested? We can produce testimony of the highest reputation, and are confident of yours, if you will but give it a fair trial.

It surpasses everything ever before offered to the World.

It gives a brillant polish and is not washed off by Casile soop and water. It is easily applied, and will last as long as your Lealier. Ladies commend it very highly for their own, and misses shoes and rubbers. Adding to a brillant fusire the virtue of not colling the whitest lines. For Gentlemen's HOOTS, HAHNESS, CARRIAGE TOPS, TRUNKS, PATENT LEATHER AFTER WORN, and Leather of every description.

It is susceptible of Oil to Leather, and not only keeps out rater, but preserves the Leather, and keeps it from marking. Dealers' attention is respectfully invited to an ex-
